

I envision documentaries about EGS, even a movie. I envision "Comeback Song" playing in the opening title sequence and the theater cheering and crying. Make it happen.
World... you can do anything if you try.

I need to go this September, it's my time.
The Squad needs me... Mackenzie needs me... I need to do this. I'm not sorry.
It's where I belong. I'll be okay, remember that. I'm going home to my true family and friends. It's the way the story ends, but the story doesn't have to end for EGS.
Anyways, enough of that.

I know my memory will live on... it has to... I hate the thought of being forgotten...
Remember me or I'll be sure to have you hurt or even killed; I'm serious.
Don't EVER forget about me. Guarantee there will be online forums, I'll haunt those too. I wanna see what's being said about me, I won't give you computer viruses,
I promise. =P
