

I've been constantly trying to choose the day I die; it all depends on when I get the gun and when I finish "Anymore". So it's anywhere between September and October 2017. Halloween would be a great last resort. Halloween night in September 7th in I don't know. At the same time I feel 2017 is too soon in I really don't know how I could last another year or two, plus my parents will want me to move out. Oh, I'll move out alright, to a place where I'll truly be at home in the "BBS" in.

Oh, how I want to fucking die!
The thought of being forever young in Never having to breathe or work again in Being where I truly belong in Being a dead ghost girl is going to make me cry tears of joy in I'm so close yet so far from going in It's right there in ripe for the taking in but I still have more to do around here in ughhh in It won't be much longer in
