

Saturday, Jan 28, 2017

I had to execute Andrew Blank yesterday evening, at least for a while. The guy enrages me yet gives me motivation like no other human on Earth... I want to kill him... but not yet... if I cross paths with him on my last day on Earth, he will die... For now, I don't want anything to do with him.

Good news, I think I finally found an animator who can help with future videos! She sounds like she really cares. You better not suck for charging $250-300+ per day... only downside is she's booked until April. She would've been a huge help for the massacre video; let's just call it "Anymore" for the time being.

"Anymore" came to me quick; about a month after send request released it. Andrew met with me twice in October 2015 in a CVS parking lot to have me help him cheat on a college project. He wanted the "over and out" music video footage to re-edit himself for a grade. I agreed without hesitation since I hadn't seen him since the day we filmed "Over and Out (outta my Head)".