As the late Bric Harris once 3 ald, "I have the fucking world," what an inspiration. Out of in of the ones who have influenced me Eric Harris Is one of the newest. I would've killed to have men the gry. I think we would've connected on so many levels. I would kill to be able to gether a mass amount off ammunition and weaponry and to just destroy anyone who has the misfortune of crossing my path Everyone on this pathetic purild planet needs to be fucking slaughtered.

What moves someone as movent looking as me want to cause mass devostation and manifectation? I have my reasons; some more morbid than others. I've hated humans my entire life. I hated making fivends, "socializing" amongst my classimates, and just overal being spoten to. Humans are worthless. we are living, breathing, moving trash. I don't care what you say; iffe is a never ending simulation of hell. I'm not afraid of humans; I'm disgusted by them.

Life 1's eigher "great" or "depressing." What is there even to be remotely happy about in this shift hote of a planet?? You are a dead man the instant you're concerned by your parents. You don't even have a say in your own name!
